Transfers of your personal data to third countries or international organisations

The Company or the recipients to which the Company gives access to your personal data for the above stated purposes will not transfer your personal data to any third countries or international organisations.

Automated decision-making

An automated decision is a decision made by the Company or a recipient to which the Company gives access to your personal data for the above stated purpose, that is based solely on automated processing of your personal data (including profiling) and that produces legal effects concerning you or similarly significantly affects you.

The Company or the recipients to which the Company gives access to your personal data for the above stated purposes will not use your personal data for automated decision-making.

What are your rights with respect to the processing of personal data?

With respect to the processing of your personal data by the Company, you can request the Company:

- To give you access to your personal data, whereby you can obtain, in particular, information whether your personal data are processed, for what purpose, what is the scope of processed data and who has been given access to your personal data, if relevant. You can also be provided with a copy of your personal data undergoing processing;
- To rectify inaccurate or incorrect data or to complete incomplete personal data;
- To erase the personal data, e.g. if the purpose of processing ceases to apply or if your personal data are processed unlawfully;
- To restrict the processing of your personal data;
- To data portability, which allows you to obtain personal data concerning you, which you have provided to the Company, in a structured and machine-readable format either for yourself or for another controller; and
- To make sure that you are not subject to any automated decision-making (you found out whether such decision-making takes place or not in the preceding chapter).

You can also raise an objection against the processing of your personal data, should the processing of your personal data be based on the lawful basis of legitimate interest, or to lodge a complaint with the Office for Personal Data Protection. The contact details are as follows:

Hungarian National Authority for Data Protection and Freedom of Information

How you can exercise your rights?

You can request the exercise of your rights via a written or oral request. In order to provide sufficient protection of the personal data processed by the Company and to prevent personal data misuse from taking place, the Company has introduced rules for the verification of your identity stated below.

You may request the exercise of your rights by:

Written request

To request the exercise of the particular right in writing, please fill in the request form available at www.cpigroup.hu/pdf/gdpr_hu.pdf?v071 (CPI Property Group, Group Data Protection Policy, Appendix 2). Your signature on the request form needs to be officially certified. Depending on local law, you may be able to have your signature certified e.g. at a notary office, post office, attorney-at-law, consulate or municipal/regional authority. The signature has to be officially certified in a country where the request is submitted to the given CPIPG company in person (e.g. in hotel, office or other premises designated by the Company) or sent via mail using a postal services provider. In case of sending the request via mail using a postal service provider in the countries outside of the EEA or the European Union, you may be contacted by the Company in order to further verify your identity.

Oral request

You may also request the exercise of the particular right in person at the Company's registered seat. Your identity will be verified by the Company's designated employee (e.g. at a front desk), based on the submission of one of the following documents: personal ID card, passport or other document with a photo sufficiently eligible to enable your clear identification.

The exercise of your rights shall not affect the rights of third parties.

Please note that should your requests be manifestly unfounded or excessive, in particular because of their repetitive character, the Company may require a reasonable fee, not exceeding the necessary costs of the provision of the above stated information or arranging the exercising of your rights, for the purposes of responding to your request.

Is the provision of your personal data mandatory?

If the Company processes your personal data based on your consent, the processing of such data is voluntary. In this case, you are not required to grant your consent and provide your personal data to the Company.

Your consent to the processing of your personal data must be a freely given, specific, informed and unambiguous expression of your will, whereby you give the Company your permission, in the form of a statement or another evident confirmation, to process your personal data.

The Company may process your personal data based on a different lawful basis, e.g. lawful basis of performance of a contract, of compliance with a legal obligation or for purposes of the legitimate interest. In this situation, provision of your personal data is necessary, because, the Company may need such personal data e.g. to conclude and perform a contract with you or to meet legal obligations. If you decide not to provide the personal data to the Company, it would not be possible to conclude the contract or to fulfil the given legal obligations.

How and when can you withdraw your consent to personal data processing?

You may withdraw the consent you have granted to the Company at any time, even before the end of the period for which it was given.

You may withdraw your consent:

- Electronically via email at hungary@cpipg.com; or
- In writing at the following address:
1138 Budapest, Dunavirág utca 2-6., Gateway Office Park, Tower No. 3, 4th floor

The withdrawal of your consent shall have no impact on the processing of your personal data conducted before the withdrawal.

This Memorandum shall be applicable from 22 August 2019.
